WHEN IT COMES TO PAVEMENT PRESERVATION... THIN IS IN

Starting at a depth of 3/4 “, this armor-like suite of mixes is tailored to local needs to prolong pavement life – making roads:

- Strong
- Smooth
- Safe
- Drivable

Thinlays are a cost-effective pavement preservation option for ensuring long-lasting performance drivers demand

THINLAY
SAFE. SMOOTH. DURABLE.

ASPHALTPAVEMENT.ORG

AT JUST A FRACTION OF AN INCH IT'S THE BIGGEST THING IN PAVEMENT PRESERVATION

With Thinlays:

- Driver safety is enhanced
- Fuel consumption & noise are reduced
- Natural resources can be recycled & reused

offers several educational tools to aid in learning more about Thinlay asphalt design.

THINLAY
SAFE. SMOOTH. DURABLE.

for the Asphalt Pavement Industry

2017 – Launched the Emerald Eco-Label Environmental Product Declaration (EPD) Program

- NAPA is the EPD program operator
- Developed all materials:
 - Product Category Rules
 - Life Cycle Assessment
 - EPD Software
- Inexpensive and easy to develop verified EPDs

The screenshot shows the Emerald Eco-Label EPD Tool website. The header features the Emerald Eco-Label logo and a navigation menu with items: Home, 1. Organizations, 2. Production Facilities, 3. Material Sources, 4. Mixes & EPDs, and Admin Tools. Below the header is a large image of an industrial facility with a circular 'Environmental Product Declaration NAPA VERIFIED' logo overlaid. The main content area includes a welcome message: 'Welcome to the Emerald Eco-Label EPD Tool'. It explains that each company must designate a primary/technical lead, watch two webinars, and pass a quiz. It provides links for 'Environmental Product Declarations: What they are and how to use them and How to Use Emerald Eco-Label, NAPA's EPD tool, can be accessed here.' and 'To access the EPD data gathering sheet that provides information on all data needed to complete an EPD, click here.' and 'To access instructions for the Emerald Eco-Label EPD tool, click here.' The footer shows the URL 'https://asphaltpd.org/plant/' and the trisight logo.
